A Rope of Women's Hair.

In his detail of Indian horrors that came nuder his notice; Mr. Markley, the New Mexico Indian killer; stated that he 1867 he gave an Indian half a dollar for a hair rope len feet in length and about the size of his little fluyer. He untwisted the end and found that it was made of red, and brun, and black halls the length of each halr, which, from the length of each halr, was evidently that of a woman. He questioned the fuding, who told him the rope was made from the halr of the women shall in the Blountain. hair, was evidently that of a woman. He questioned the Indian, who told then the rope was unde from the hair ment: It has butthre priaciples, and of the women stale in the Mountain Meadow massacre, for completty with which murder John D.
